McGILL NITE AT ALLEN WEDNESDAY

Mandolin Club Again to Perform at Local Theatre

Final preparations are being made by the Mandolin and Banjo Orchestra in their last practice to-night for their return engagement at the Allen Theatre on Wednesday, February 28th, to be advertised again as a McGill Nite.

The Club has been very active around College this year, and this will probably be the last public appearance, as the Club as a whole will not appear in the McGill Theatre Night Programme at the St. Denis Theatre. Without a doubt the Club is the strongest it has ever been for years, for although the bill posters make the Orchestra composed of twenty-five performers, three more players have been added, making the Club stronger than it was at our last performance. It is now composed of fourteen mandolins and banjo-mandolins, three tenor banjos, and one banjo, two saxophones, two cornets, a marimba-

LAST INFORMAL TO BE FRIDAY

Tickets Go on Sale at 1:15
Today

Friday, March 2nd, will witness the final Informal to be held at McGill. Stress is laid on the fact that "Spring" will make its debut about this time and students attending this dance will be able to sing "April Showers" to their hearts' content.

This function marks the last but not least informal dance of the year and students are urged to participate in making this an event to be looked back upon with happy reminiscences.

Arrangements have been made for the McGill Dance Orchestra to render soothing music, and an enjoyable evening is assured to all.

Tickets go on sale Monday and a detachment of the C.O.T.C. will be on hand to check and keep the rush in order. "Come one, come all, and come early," is the slogan of the wise.

WATER POLO, BASKETBALL AND ASSAULT AT ARMS ARE WON BY MCGILL TEAMS ON SATURDAY

Three Intercollegiate Titles Are Captured When B.W. & F., Water Polo, and R.V.C. Basketball Teams Win—Red and White Wrestlers Are Responsible for Victory at Kingston—Wonderful Pluck of Injured Boxer—Refused to Quit Though Covered With Blood—Swimmers Turn Tables on 'Varsity Poloists with a Score of 6-0—Women's Intercollegiate Basketball Championship Netted by 2 Points After Exciting Contest.

WATER POLO

The McGill Intercollegiate water polo team accomplished what was considered an impossibility on Saturday night, when they drew abreast of Varsity, who started with a three-goal lead, and then tucked away the Championship by piling in three additional tallies, thus making the total score for the two games 7-4 in favour of McGill. After falling victims to the U. of T. players by a 4-1 score at Toronto, not even the most optimistic supporter anticipated such a complete shut-out as 6-0 indicates. McGill did not follow the conventional type of polo which the average team displays, namely, they did not play a defensive game when in the shallow end and a defensive one when at a disadvantage in the deep end. Instead, they attacked at all times as is shown by the fact that three goals were scored when they were in each end of the tank.

A large and enthusiastic gallery turned out to witness the encounter, and excitement ran high as McGill gradually caught up to, and then walked away from their opponents. The local mermen outplayed Toronto at all times, and showed a marked superiority in their combination. Three men took up the attack throughout the entire game, and so scared Varsity that they played a three-man defence thus lessening their chances of scoring. For McGill, Ross was the outstanding man, scoring four of the six goals; while Vernon contented himself with playing a slightly defensive game, combining his team-mate in the rushes. The defence men, Laidley and Anson, teamed well together, and by prompt tackling relieved pressure on their goal at awkward moments. Kyle and Vickerson also played brilliantly, considering the fact that they were up against heavier and more experienced opponents, and both made a good impression by the determined way in which they grappled with their men. In goal, Graham-Browne played his usual steady, cool game, pulling down the ball from all sides with his long reach; only one shot fooled him, and that was Reilly's, which hit the post on the inside, but fortunately bounced out again. Both teams travelled at top speed, and play was very strenuous, at times becoming rough. However, Referee George Moore, supported by Albert Farmer as judge of play, kept the contest well in hand and nipped any attempt at rowdiness in the bud. Being old-time players themselves, they were able to explain every decision they rendered, thus

BASKETBALL

One of the most thrilling games that have been played in Intercollegiate activities this year was staged on Saturday night when the R.V.C. Sextet defeated the 'Varsity girls by a score of 32-30, on the Convocation Hall floor.

By this victory McGill won the Women's Intercollegiate Basketball championship, which has been held by 'Varsity since the Women's Intercollegiate Basketball League was formed two years ago.

The game was a very exciting one from start to finish, first one team led with a single point and then the other. On three occasions during the game the score was tied, as the teams were very evenly matched, and both put up a wonderful fight. Within the last two minutes the McGill team forged ahead and succeeded in changing the score from 30-28 for 'Varsity to 30-all, and finally to 32-30 for McGill. Convocation Hall, which was filled, has probably never in its history echoed with such enthusiastic shouting as came from the loyal supporters of old McGill during those last few minutes when victory seemed to waver in the balance.

At the very outset Miss Leggett scored for McGill, as she did many times throughout the game. Then a double foul gave both a free shot but both teams failed to net a basket, then on a second free shot Miss Snider scored for 'Varsity. Some wonderful passing was done and the combination play was interesting to watch. However Miss Russel soon succeeded in breaking up the combination and after a splendid pass, Miss Leggett scored a brilliant field shot, making the score 4-1 for McGill. After some lively play Miss Snider scored for 'Varsity and alternate scoring followed, bringing the score to a tie of 8-8. Miss

ASSAULT AT ARMS

Before a large and vociferous enthusiastic crowd which completely packed Grant Hall of Queen's University, the McGill wrestlers and boxers, showing the effects of conscientious coaching, staged a fighting exhibition that brought them the Intercollegiate championship, with a three point lead over Toronto 'Varsity and a seven point edge on the Tri-Colour contestants. The final score of the meet, which was won by McGill for the first time since 1915 was: McGill, 9; Toronto, 6; Queen's, 2.

Every seat in the hall was occupied, and standing room was at a premium on Saturday evening when the collegiate grapplers and pugilists came on the floor, and the crowd was not disappointed in the fare that was provided. From the spectacular point of view, the feature bout of the evening was in the 125 lb. boxing contest between Relyea of Toronto, and Snow of McGill, in which the latter gave as fine an exhibition of grit and staying power as has been seen in the Limestone City. Early in the first round, the two boxers collided, and both received injuries about the head. Snow, however, was seriously cut, the wound piercing to a vein and resulting in a flow of blood that defied all efforts of those in attendance to stop. Literally covered in blood, the injured boxer was urged to desist by Coach Robinson and by the referee, but he refused to relinquish the bout and continued the fight, knocking his opponent down in the first round and in the second, while Relyea was reeling in the final stanza.

This was not the only bout, however, that provided thrills. Every round was gained and keenly contested, and every man showed a capacity both to inflict and receive punishment. It was in the wrestling that the Red and White men showed to the greatest advantage, and were able to gain the decision in six out of eight contests. The boxers broke even with Toronto, each university winning three, while Queen's took two, of the bouts in which they figured.

A detailed account of the contests follows:—

BOXING.

110 lbs.—McCartney of Queens, got a decision over Schleiffer of McGill in three rounds. In the first round Schleiffer had the advantage, but McCartney's hard hitting earned him the decision.

In the 118 lb. class, Holmes, Queens, a neat boxer, got a well earned decision over Hubert, Varsity, after three rds.

In the 135 lb. class Merritt scored a near knockout over Holt, of Queens, in the first round. The referee committed ten, but then ordered the men to carry on, as Holt was just rising to his feet, and the bout continued. Merritt was knocked down in the second round, but the bell just saved Holt in the third. Decision for Merritt.

Brewer got the decision in the 145 pound class, after the bout went to an extra round. Brewer's continued aggression won him the fight.

STUDENTS RELIEF CAMPAIGN OPENS

McGill Students Urged to Support Worthy Cause

Today witnesses the opening of the campaign for the relief of students in Russia. The Students' Council has passed a resolution commending the enterprise and Wells and his committee are showing a good deal of energy and enthusiasm in connection with the undertaking.

Last year over 20,000 students in Russia were supported by American and Canadian students. Conditions in that country are at present very unfavourable but the rates of exchange make American and Canadian coinage go a long way.

The following committee is organizing the Student Relief Campaign:

H. Wells, chairman.
Arts—H. N. Bronson, C. H. Fraser, Commerce—J. H. Goldsmith.
Science—F. S. Howes, E. G. Maxwell.
Law—H. Batshaw, J. H. G. Way.
Medicine—A. Klineberg, C. Graham.
Dentistry—J. E. Kirk, H. Baxter.
Theology—J. W. Clarke.

A partial list of the collectors is as follows:

Arts—W. F. Shepherd, '25; H. McPhail, '25; C. T. Teakle, '24; C. H. Fraser, '23.
Science—L. F. E. Winter, Neroutis (A), Noyes (B), Reid (C), King (D), H.—R. Dingman, Schlee (A and B), Stewart (C), Stevens (D).
III.—A. P. Miller, Howes (Electrical), James (Civil), Miller (Mech.), Muir (Min. and Met. and Chem.).
IV.—J. L. Bieler, Oliver (Elect.), Stephens (Civil), Bieler (Mech.).

HOW NOT TO DO IT.

A student of Ohio State College, when confronted in an astronomy mid-term by a set of questions, not one of which he could answer, did not even attempt to "bluff" through the test. He merely turned in a paper that was absolutely blank except for his name. A few erasure marks on the paper showed where the perplexed student had started an answer, but had rubbed it out, preferring to get a zero than a grade a few points higher.

"It is the first time that I have ever had a paper handed in without a thing written on it," said the unfortunate student's instructor, Professor E. R. Manson, Jr. "Needless to say, it's the easiest examination paper I have ever had to correct," he added.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE

Mastery of self-expression is a worthy achievement. Today, through the agency of debates being held at 'Varsity' in Toronto, at Queen's in Kingston and at McGill in Montreal, under the auspices of the Inter-University Debating League, it is to be settled as to which of the three universities mentioned will go the crown for greatest perfection in this sphere of forensic endeavour. The subject selected for discussion, appearing elsewhere in this issue, is one that combines the element of concern, along with susceptibility to argument and faculty for appreciation without extensive research.

The men who will be debating for McGill have gained their places upon the Debating Team because of their efforts as participants in the inter-faculty debates or because of their felicitous speaking upon the floor of the Mock Parliament. Today, with meetings with 'Varsity' here and with Queen's in Kingston, will realize the culmination of debating at McGill for the current year unless the Lit. institutes a programme calling for renewed activity. A representative gathering of students in the Union this evening is demanded not only as a compliment to the debaters who have toiled with such energy over their subjects, but is imperative if McGill is to maintain its present position in the estimation of outsiders as a centre of literary interest. But the benefit of attendance is not alone for the debaters and their colleges; it is equally so for those who attend and who will hear an argumentative discussion, by men familiar with their topic, which will be certain to redound to the advantage of the audience as it will to the credit of the speakers.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

The advocates of the establishment in Canada of a central advisory research council controlling all the scientific branches contained in the various government departments is worthy of the fullest support. The paramount importance of scientific research both as a contribution to pure knowledge and in its industrial applications can no longer be ignored; and any plan tending to organize it on a truly scientific basis in which the separate functions of the university, industry, and the government are correlated and united should be welcomed, from whichever of these three viewpoints the matter is regarded.

Speaking before the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Ottawa on Friday, Sir Clifford Sifton, stressing the value of the efficient organization of national scientific research, put forward a proposition which involved the appointment of a board of governors, and the establishment of what amounted to a new government department devoted solely to the control of scientific research. Such a department should not, however, be under the direction of a political minister.

This proposal has found support from no less an authority than Sir George Foster, who said that the time had come for the establishment of an organization to carry on the work of scientific research on a much larger scale than has hitherto been found possible. It seems, then, that the value of scientific research, already realized by industry, is receiving, too, a measure of recognition in official circles.

The whole question is one which touches us closely. It is at the university that the research worker receives his preliminary training; it is in the laboratories of the universities under the expert guidance of a trained staff that much of the experimental research must be carried on; and the time is surely coming when industry and the government alike will realize that an adequate body of men engaged in research can best be maintained by the establishment of numerous research scholarships at the leading Canadian universities.

EDITORIAL NOTE

McGill may well congratulate itself upon the results of the past week-end. In the brief space of two days three championships, and the possibility of the attainment of a fourth, have been placed to the honour of our Alma Mater by those who so ably carried its colours. The Ladies' Intercollegiate Basketball Championship will remain at McGill for another year, while the men's Intercollegiate series has been converted into a three-cornered tie owing to the victory of the McGill team on Saturday and will not be finally decided until next Friday and Saturday when 'Varsity', Queen's and McGill meet in Ottawa. The annual Assault-at-Arms, held in Kingston, was won by McGill for the first time since 1915, due to the brilliant showing of the Red and White boxers, wrestlers and fencers. The Water Polo team, playing one of the pluckiest games in its history, entering the tank three points behind its rivals, gained a deserved victory and the Intercollegiate Water Polo Championship for 1923 by defeating 'Varsity' on Saturday night. Indeed, it was a week-end of activity and accomplishment.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES TODAY

Of those who are speaking for McGill, Penrose and Everett are well known as followers of interclass debating, while Clarke is well known among the Theological students and has been heard often at the recent sessions of the Mock Parliament. Batshaw, of Law '24, was a member of the Law '24 debating team, and is recognized as a very forceful speaker.

McInnis and Guest, who will uphold Toronto's part of the argument, are both well known as speakers. McInnis was recently selected as Rhodes Scholar for Prince Edward Island. He is a member of the 'Varsity' staff, and has recently published a collection of poems under the title of "The Road to Anas." Among his honours he is able to include the Jardine Memorial Prize for English Verse, and the George Oria Scholarship given on Knox College for English Bible. Guest, his colleague, is a prominent interfaculty debater, and is president of the Royal Dental Society at Varsity.

Montreal, Feb. 25.

Editor,

McGill Daily:
 Dear Sir,—Through the medium of your columns, I wish, on behalf of the Basketball Club, to convey to the gentlemen who so kindly assisted at yesterday's game our thanks.

To the men who so generously supplied music, and to those who so efficiently handled the crowd, we are greatly indebted.

Hoping that we may have the hearty support of every student during the coming two weeks,

I remain, yours truly,

T. W. LADIE,

Manager.

Basketball Club.

Montreal, Feb. 25.

Editor,

McGill Daily:
 Dear Sir,—I should be very glad if you would insert the following in your esteemed paper:

On Wednesday, Feb. 28th, the fourth meeting of the McGill Chapter of the Sigma Xi Society will be held. The speakers will be Dr. E. M. Eberts, Dr. L. J. Rhea and Prof. H. M. McKay, who will review briefly recent research work at the University in surgery, medicine and engineering respectively.

In all the leading universities of this continent, the Society of the Sigma Xi is an honorary society whose object is to develop scientific research. The qualification for membership consists in the carrying out and publication of original research. A limited number of graduating students who have shown outstanding ability are admitted each year to associate membership, an honour which stimulates interest in their studies. One of the main objects of the society is to interest the public in general in the present day advances made in science. This is accomplished by a number of addresses delivered by men who have personally carried out the work or by men who are authorities in the particular branch of science discussed.

The Chapter at McGill this year is starting an active campaign and is fortunate in having among its officers such men as Dr. W. W. Chipman (President), Dr. A. S. Eve, F.R.S., Dr. J. B. Porter, Dean Birkett, Prof. R. DeL. French.

I hope you will be able to give this matter a prominent write-up and thus furnish the publicity which is essential if the general public is to profit.

Yours very truly,

R. De L. FRENCH.

BANQUET AT R.V.C. FOR VISITING TEAMS

One of the most enjoyable of the entertainments given at the R. V. C. for the visiting basketball teams from Varsity and Queens, was a banquet on Saturday, at one o'clock. The dining room was rearranged for the occasion, having two long tables in the centre of the room in the form of a T, at which the invited guests were seated, and on either side of this, was one long table at which the remaining House girls and the members of the M. S. P. E. were seated. The tables were very prettily decorated with Red and White carnations, and with the 'Colours' of the three Universities which were represented.

Each member of the visiting team was presented with a 'favour' bearing the McGill crest.

After a very delightful menu, Miss Lorna Kerr, who acted as chairman, proposed a toast to "The King," after which the National Anthem was sung.

Miss Hurlbatt then gave an address of welcome to the visiting teams, in which she said how much everyone had enjoyed their visit and also expressed her regret that McGill lacked a regular gymnasium in which to play Intercollegiate basketball, but hoped that when next Varsity and Queens teams should visit McGill, the games might be played in a large new gymnasium. Miss Hurlbatt concluded her address by proposing a toast to "Our Guests from Varsity and Queens." Miss Asman, of Varsity and Miss Martin of Queens University responded to this toast, and both

SCIENCE '26

There will be an important meeting to-day. All members of the class are urgently requested to turn out to this meeting.

McGILL MANDOLIN CLUB.
 All members must attend this final practice to-night at 7.15 at Peate's in order to receive final instructions and make seating arrangements. The early hour is necessary as the Manager of the Allen and his Musical Director expect to be present.

CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED TODAY

Arts '26 Baseball Team Meets Med. '25

This evening at six o'clock in the High School gymnasium the Arts '26 indoor baseball team clashes with the Med '25 nine for the championship of the University.

Both teams have gone through the season without a defeat so far, so that a good brand of baseball and a closely contested game is expected.

The batteries and fielders of both teams are very strong for the Meds. Reg Henry, who is well known around college for his ability as a baseball player, will send the pill over the plate, while Walker, who is at the receiving end, is known to send the ball down to second with deadly accuracy so that it is not expected that many bases will be stolen.

Shpritzer, the Freshman pitcher, has proved the stumbling block of all batters who have faced him, combining speed with a curve that not many have been able to solve, sending most of the men who face him back to the bench by the strike-out route. He is ably aided by Abramovitch, who has the enviable record of a practically clean slate as regards passed balls.

The infielders of both teams work well together, as is evidenced by the fact that few men have made extra bases, except on clean outfield hits.

The probable line-ups are:

| Arts '26    | Med. '25    |
|-------------|-------------|
| Catcher     | Walker      |
| Pitcher     | Abramovitch |
| First Base  | Henry       |
| Second Base | Wight       |
| Short Stop  | Lanthier    |
| Third Base  | Forrest     |
| Field       | Kennedy     |
|             | Tinkess     |
|             | Senecal     |
|             | Johnston    |

expressed their appreciation of the manner in which they had been welcomed and entertained during their visit. Miss C. Robertson then welcomed the teams on behalf of Miss Z. Slack, the President of the R.V.C.A.A., who, owing to her illness, was unable to be present, and proposed a toast to the "Success of Future Intercollegiate Meets."

The banquet was brought to a close by the singing of "O Canada."

A very successful Thè Dansant was given on Saturday afternoon in the R.V.C. Common Room, in honor of the Queens and Varsity teams, and to which the men's basketball teams from Queens and McGill were invited.

CAPTAIN CUTTLE'S COLUMN

Dear Captain Cuttle:

Would you be so kind as to tell me if you have heard anything of a hockey match which was held at the Mount Royal Arena one day last week between the R.V.C. Hockey Sextette and the McGill Junior team. Several rumours are going around the campus as to the result of the contest but I can get nothing authoritative. Is it a fact that the score was 12-0 for co-eds, as the Juniors had absolutely no chance against the tricky tactics of the unfair sex who were able to fool not only the defence men and the goal-keeper, but the referee, the umpire, the groundsman and the policeman on duty? How is it, Cap, that no report of this fine victory of our girls has appeared in the Daily?

Yours attentively,

HOCKETTE.

Ans.—You haven't got the score quite right. It was 13-0 in a game that was marred by its excessive roughness, the R.V.C. players being penalized time and again for various series of offences, such as hitting members of the opposing six over the head with hockey sticks, poking them in the ribs, tripping, and engaging in brawls and fist encounters. No report of the game has hitherto been printed as the Juniors are very reticent as a result of their inability to cope with the Maggies of the R.V.C.

Olie: How come?

Stude: A chicken that had a mother couldn't have been as tough as that!

THREE CORNERED TIE AS A RESULT OF MCGILL WIN

Red and White Basketmen, Playing Stellar Game, Turn Tables on Queen's Quintet—Mendelsohn Starred—"Bones" Little Turns in Fine Performance—Captain Manson Consistent Scorer.

Urged by a thousand thundering roars, exhorted by a shrieking gallery of feminine enthusiasts, the McGill basketball team, playing the latest game that has been seen on a local court in years, swept the heavy Queen's quintet before them and piled up a seventeen point lead on the contenders for the Intercollegiate title. The tri-colored team was unable to stand the fast pace set by the fighting Red and White machine and in the last few minutes of play collapsed before the fury of the McGill onslaught, the final score being 44-27.

The great gymnasium of the Montreal High School was a colourful scene on Saturday afternoon. In the gallery were the members of the visiting teams which are playing in the Women's Intercollegiate Basketball Union who backed their respective teams with many cheers. "Nuts" Nutting was at the game to lead the rosters, and it was in a large measure due to the support that was given the team that the players were able to set the killing pace that gave them the victory. Music was furnished by an orchestra under the leadership of "Bob" Burland. In fact no detail was lacking and the team when they finished their whirlwind rally made the occasion one that will long remain in the minds of those who attended the game.

The Red and White team turned in the best game of the season. Every man on the team was at top form and it is almost impossible to select a star from the six men who were on the floor. Captain Manson tossed in the free throws in good shape but it was due to his powerful work on the defence that the team were able to come through as they did. Time after time passes that the Queen's men tried to this giant pivot man intercepted the score on and time after time he was able to start the ball on its route to the basket. Twice in the course of the play the big centre shot most difficult shots into the ring and although he did not take many chances on long shots he was the high scorer on the floor.

Mendelsohn was a big factor in the win. This fast-moving forward had the Queen's defence guessing the entire game and they found it a physical impossibility to keep him covered. In the closing moments of the game he sent two beautiful tallies into the net from the side line and was always where the defence was not. If the Queen's team left a defence man behind as they came up the floor the three McGill forwards closed in on the opposition and broke up the play. If the tri-colored opposition came down the floor five men strong they found that when they had lost the ball Mendelsohn was under the basket to receive a pass and tally.

"Bones" Little, the veteran player on the team, came on to the floor at the end of the first period. He received a big ovation from the crowd and when the play started he gave an exhibition that has not been seen in years on the court. Although he tallied but three times in this period it was due to the fight and play that this man displayed that the Red and White line broke up the Queen's play and time after time were able to get up the floor to score. In fact as the record of play shows Little was mixed into the game at every point and with his skill and experience he was able to work up the birds-eye through the entire team and tally on two occasions.

Turpel, the fighting forward of the Senior team, was on for the first period and despite the fact that his ankles are in bad shape the hard playing advance line man was able to deprive Queen's of the ball on numerous occasions. He was on the ball every time and although Manson was not always able to get the jump Turpel was able on many occasions to cut in and wrest the sphere from the waiting Queen's players.

To the defence of the McGill team belongs the greatest credit for the win. Throughout the season Crain and Amaron have proved themselves to be the best paid of guards in the Intercollegiate league. Both were working at their best on Saturday. Queen's rarely got a rebound from a bad shot and only once did they score from under the basket. Amaron tallied three times. Crain was up the floor once to score. Both men played their positions well and not only did they always get back before Queen's started down the floor but every time the forward line started up the floor one of the two were in the advancing combination. Queen's were between Seylla and Charibidis when they tried to get through the two stalwart players and if they hesitated a minute "Art" Manson was in the centre to make an attempt to tally from near the basket impossible. Queen's got but eight baskets the entire game against the eighteen baskets that McGill sent into the net. In the last period when Queen's was trying to score they were able to get but two shots into the net.

"Eddie" got the ball back and dropped it into the net. Crain worked at top form and worked some of the finer points of the game when he slipped by the opposing defence. Queen's scored on two free tries. Manson sent a free shot into the ring. Little assisted as Mendelsohn dropped another neat shot into the net. A moment later the same fast pair of forwards outwitted the Queen's defence and slid a pass by them, Mendelsohn scoring the basket. Manson scored next on a hard shot from the side. Little ended the game when he sent a long shot that swept out a perfect arc and went neatly through the ring without hitting the iron.

The last period told the story. Coach Van Wagner had sent a team on the floor that was in perfect physical shape and that knew basketball. Every man starred in his respective position. In the last period they scored 27 points while Queen's scored 10. Jones and Thomas were the two most dangerous opponents that the home team had. These two men, one on the offence and the other on the defence, played hard games and were at all times dangerous. In the second period Jones was too well covered to be effective and his team mates could not score on long shots.

Mr. P. S. Manley handled the game in the most excellent manner.

The line-up was as follows:

| McGill 44  | Queen's 27 |

INTERMEDIATES VS. CENTRAL Y.M.C.A.

McGill won the opening game on Saturday afternoon when the Intermediate "A" team defeated the Central Y.M.C.A. team and thus held second place in their section of the City League. The game was fast and although weakened by the injury of "Bill" James the Intermediates had very little trouble throughout the entire play. The team which started the year without much skill at the game have developed into an easy-working unit and have throughout the season given many excellent displays of the game. They also have earned a lot of credit because of the fact that it is due to their turning out night after night to practice against the much larger Senior team that the older squad have been able to develop into a winning organization.

Captain Scharie of the Intermediate team graduates this year and in his last game for the Red and White certainly starred. This plucky forward has for four years played on college teams and it is interesting to note that he never played the game till his second year at McGill. Due to lack of weight he was unable to make the Senior team but has stuck at the game and in the past year has given the Seniors plenty of exercise in the practice games.

The play on Saturday was loose. The Central team were unaccustomed to the strict refereeing that the Intercollegiate referee handed out and this checked both their defensive and offensive play.

At the start of the game Rafalovitch the Red and White centre, got the jump and the team started up the floor. A foul was called and the free try missed. In a mix up on the floor James was injured and Philpott went into the game. Rafalovitch in the next play sent a pass to Scharie, who scored. Both teams handled the ball carefully and as a result most of the game was around the centre of the floor. Rafalovitch scored on a rebound. Caplen scored for the "Y" in a nice long shot. This played all net as he passed under the basket. Caplen scored again and Rafalovitch brought down the house when he shot a ball that hit the basket and bounced to the top of the backboard from which it fell dead into the ring. A moment later the same player scored a clean-cut shot from centre floor.

through the game proved to be a dead shot and turned in a nice record. In the next few moments of play Scharie rolled in two shots, Rafalovitch and Caplen one apiece. The game was fast and Philpott was playing a nice game on the forward line. Snyder and Hodina on the defence saved a lot of points from going in against the Red and White, both men playing their positions well. Scharie broke loose and scored a one-hand shot while checked. A moment later the fast moving forward came down the floor at full speed and shot the ball into the net. The period closed with McGill 23 to the Y.M.C.A. 10.

The second period was a repetition of the first. Both teams were working well but the McGill players showed a superiority of condition and had a lot of the breaks. Despite his injured arm James went in for Philpott.

R.V.C. SEXTET READY FOR FINAL FRAY

Final Game to Be Held Here Tuesday

STRONG LINE-UP

'Varsity Team Arrives Here Today

The Toronto Varsity women's hockey squad left the Queen City this morning, travelling by day in preference to the night trip. The players, with Miss Marion Moody as manager, will arrive at 5.40 this afternoon at the Windsor Station, and will stay at the Mount Royal Hotel until Tuesday morning, when they will go to the R. V. C. for the remainder of their stay in the city. With a good night's rest the Blue and White sextet should be in excellent condition for the big game to-morrow afternoon at the Arena. This contest will decide the Intercollegiate championship for the year, and incidentally the winners will be able to claim the right to the William Beatty Trophy until next season.

COACH SMITH

Whose Protégées Won Six Contests out of Eight at Kingston

Last year the first women's hockey game between the two colleges was staged in Toronto, and before a huge crowd the McGill squad was sent down to defeat by the powerful 'Varsity aggregation. With the opening of the winter, prospects were 'one too bright in the land of the Red and White, for many of the old reliables had left, and new material did not seem to be any too abundant. However, since January things have taken a decided turn towards the better, and a spirit of optimism is prevalent in the McGill camp. Miss Alice Roy and Miss Mary Fry, the reliable defence, are both back on the line-up, and will add a great deal of stength to the team. Miss Roy, at centre, will be ably assisted on the forward line by Miss Helen Marshall and Miss Frances Stocking. This trio should provide a dangerous offensive against the invaders, and should give the U. of T. net guard plenty to worry about. They are all fast skaters, and Miss Stocking is an abaluty start on the defence, is a compecially brilliant stick handler. Miss Lilian Bingham who will in all probparatively new find, but has shown up well in the last two games, winning for herself a berth on the squad. With Miss Fry and Miss Bingham on the back line, the Torontonians will strike a stumbling block on the way to victory, and even the latter being saved for the Senior game if another forward was needed. James, although troubled by his arm, turned in a nice card and fought his way through the team to score on numerous occasions. Caplen scored again for the "Y". Bill James and Scharie gave a pretty exhibition of passing and the former sent a one-handed shot in from under the basket. The "Y" team passed wild and Scharie in a lone tally sent a nice shot in. The visitors scored a moment later after a clean cut bit of combination play. James and Scharie worked well together and with Rafalovitch they worked a nice bit of passing and James scored. Hayden scored on a lone rush up the floor. Caplen scored on a long shot. The "Y" team had the better of the free tries although they did not have as many chances as McGill to throw them in. The game ended with the score 37 to 19 for the Red and White team.

This game concluded the series in the section of the City League that this team was entered. McGill, although not at the top of her section, has finished in second place. Mr. P. S. Manley handled the game in his usual efficient manner. McGill

| Forwards   | Centre | Defence | Spares |
|--|--------|---------|--------|
| James .....  | Wright |         |        |
| Scharie .....  | Laing  |         |        |
| Rafalovitch .....  | Caplan |         |        |
| Snyder .....   | Murray |         |        |
| Hodina .....   | Hayden |         |        |
| Philpott .....   | Hill   |         |        |
|  | Kay    |         |        |

| Free tries: Scharie, 7; Wright, 5.                                       |        |         |        |

though they manage to get through they will have to outwit Miss Lorna Kerr in the nets, before they can chalk up a tally to their credit. Miss Eileen Baskin will substitute for Miss Kerr in goals and with Miss Carol Robertson, Miss Rhoda Grant and Miss Dixie Campbell, will be ready to go on the ice whenever necessary. All the subs. have been well tried and tested, and can be relied upon to turn in good games.

Coach Shughnessy, assisted by Miss MacCallum, has put the team through some hard practices, and even the casual observer cannot but help noticing the vast improvement over the early season play, both from the standpoint of individual and team work.

Toronto Squad Strong

However, the strength of the Toronto squad cannot be placed too highly. The women from the Queen City have been setting a fast pace, and have come through a hard season with only one loss and that by a narrow margin. They defeated the North Toronto sextet, city champions, by a very comfortable margin, and sent the Aura Lees, the runners-up, down to defeat. The 'Varsity squad do not play city league, but the comparisons show that the Blue and White outfit is a dangerous one, and should be well worth watching. The reports that have been sifting through from time to time seem to indicate that the team is even stronger than the one that captured the honours last year, and this in itself means a lot.

Coach Perley Banbury has kept his proteges hard at work, and has high hopes for a victory. Miss Olive Mews, on the defence, has won for herself the reputation of being the fastest skater on the sextet, and is one of the outstanding players in Toronto circles. She is assisted on the back line by Miss Molly Donaldson, and the two form a mighty combination. Miss Marjorie Fenwick, the blond centre is not very tall, but she knows how to skate and is a clever stick handler who will keep Miss Roy busy at the key position. Miss Marion Hilliard and Miss Margaret Thomas, fill the wing positions, and both have been high scorers during the season. They are brilliant skaters, and have kept their opponents worried on every occasion. Miss Bobs Robertson looks after the Toronto twines, and though it was rumoured that she was injured in a recent workout, it has been definitely learned that she will travel with the squad today.

Miss Doris Ross, Miss Marie Thomas, Miss Plumtree and Miss Hazlewood are the substitutes for the visiting aggregation.

Tickets for to-morrow's game may be obtained at the various buildings of the University for the reasonable price of 55c.

eliminating all arguments. Play opened with McGill defending the shallow end, and at the race-off Ross secured the ball. After some pretty passing, Reiley took a long shot which Graham-Browne handled easily. Vernot then carried the ball down, and when tackled by Waldron, passed to Anson, who gave Bell a hot one. Some close checking followed, and Ross, taking a quick back-hand shot, hit the cross-bar. In the play which followed, the Toronto goaler held on to the cross-bar and McGill was given a free throw. A little later Laidley sent a long drifting pass down the tank, and Ross, without waiting to receive it, tipped it on and nearly fooled Bell. Then Vernot, being left uncovered, chose to shoot instead of swimming in, but the ball travelled straight into Bell's hands. A scrimmage then ensued in front of the Toronto goal, during which Ross received a pass when about a yard out, and scored the first goal of the evening. McGill, 1; Varsity, 0.

This favourable opening drew a tremendous burst of applause from the spectators, and the rooters gave the McGill yell in approved style. On the resumption of play, Vickerson went in for Kyle and McGill attacked. Bell saved from Ross, and Vernot, nailing the rebound, hit the cross-bar. Varsity then paid a visit, and Graham-Browne took a fast flip on his chest, the ball bouncing across the tank. Some close checking followed near the local goal, and Vickerson was given a free throw when Wells oversaw him. Anson relieved when he broke loose, and swam down till tackled, then passed to Ross, who was less than a yard out. Unfortunately the Toronto de-fever man was able to dash back and hold him, thus preventing a certain score.

Quarter time:—McGill, 1; Varsity, 0. After the teams had changed ends the ball travelled back and forth until Reiley looked dangerous; the crowd registered relief, however, when he shot over the bar. Ross and Vernot then combined on a neat piece of play, and passed the ball nearly a dozen times in front of the Varsity nets. Being in a favorable position, Ross finally let drive a hot one which Bell stopped but fumbled, and Vickerson charged forward, tipping the ball just across the goal line. McGill, 2; Varsity, 0.

From the face-off, McGill pressed again and during a scrimmage, the ball drifted past their opponents goal-post—but on the wrong side. After Vernot's shot had just scraped the top of the bar, Laidley cut loose with a sharp drive although closely checked by Laidley. The ball eluded Graham-Browne and hit the inside of the post, but bounced out into play again. McGill then bombarded Bell with shots from all angles, but he saved well until Ross drew him from his nets and swung the ball past him for McGill's third goal.

Half time:—McGill, 3; Varsity, 0. After the rest period McGill came back stronger than ever and both Vernot and Ross hit the cross-bar. A technical foul was called on Ross, who had to swim back to his line. Anson carried the ball down, passed over a Toronto man to Ross, who without hesitation batted it over Bell's shoulder. McGill, 4; Varsity, 0.

This tally gave McGill a one-point lead on the total score, and 'Varsity grew desperate. They crowded the McGill goal and Graham-Browne saved at the post. Kyle then checked Reiley well, nailing him every time he touched the ball. Finally Ross flipped a high pass to Vernot, stationed a couple of feet from the Varsity goal, the latter helped it on its way over Bell's head and into the net. McGill, 5; Varsity, 0.

Play hovered around centre until just before three-quarter time, when Reiley fouled Kyle and was given a one minute penalty.

Three-quarter time:—McGill, 5; Varsity, 0. Vickerson came on in the last quarter for Kyle, and McGill nearly scored when Ross and Bell engaged in a hot tussle. The players crowded each others goal, leaving the centre of the tank empty, so that long end to end passes were in order. Bell left his nets to check Vickerson, who was awarded a free-throw. The latter passed to Ross, who slammed in a fast one which Bell could not reach. McGill, 6; Varsity, 0.

Harston of Toronto, went on for Wood, and had to swim back to his line for starting for the ball before the whistle. Time was called a few seconds later, leaving McGill very much in the lead.

Final score:—McGill, 6; Varsity, 0. The teams lined up as follows:—

| Varsity                                       | Goal                  | McGill |

QUEENS DEFEATED M.S.P.E. BASKETBALL

Good Exhibition Game With Score 23-21

An exhibition game of basketball was played between Queens and M.S.P.E. on Saturday evening, previous to the intercollegiate battle. A good brand of basketball was exhibited, the game was a close one throughout, the M.S.P.E. being but two points behind in the final score, which was 23-21 in favour of Queens.

In the first period, Queens managed to get the ball and scored on a free shot. Some splendid play followed, in which both teams fought nobly. There was much fouling, due to over-guarding. At half time the score was 15-11 in favour of Queens.

In the second period the play became faster, and both teams worked hard. On the M.S.P.E. team Miss Gordon replaced Miss McTaggart, and Miss F. Argue replaced Miss P. Perry. Miss Duff-Stuart netted a pretty basket, which was closely followed by another by Miss Gordon. Miss Duff-Stuart's play was particularly characterized by her splendid ability to score from the field. With a score standing at 16-17, both teams purred on, hoping for victory. The final score was 23-21.

Miss Montgomery proved herself most capable in her position as forward on the Queens team, while Miss Vince played a stellar game on the forward line. Miss Martin played well on the defence. The Queens team showed better form than they did in the two previous games.

The following was the line-up:—

| Queens              | M.S.P.E.       |
|---------------------|----------------|
| Forwards            |                |

McGILL LOSES TO ALL-STARS AFTER MAKING GREAT STAND

City Leaguers Win 2-1—McGill Held One Goal Lead at Beginning of Final Period—"Boo" Anderson Stars for Winners—Former McGill Player Scores Winning Goal on Sensational Play—Flanagan Tallies for Red and White.

The McGill Hockey team ended the season on Saturday night with a gallant stand against a picked team of City League stars at the Mount Royal Arena, the All-Stars, after a hard fight, finally emerging on the long end of a 2 to 1 score.

For forty minutes of play the City Leaguers were unable to find the McGill nets, while Flanagan's beautiful goal in the second period gave the Red and White the one point. In the third period, held at the beginning of the final period, the first five minutes of the last stanza, however, spelt doom for the Collegians. By a combined rush, Royle took a pass from Slater, circled Dineen on right defence, and sent one into the corner of the net, which "Slim" Morris was unable to handle. With the score tied, play became very spirited, and two minutes later "Boo" Anderson, erstwhile McGill star, uncorked the prettiest, as well as most spectacular play of the game. Securing the puck behind his own goal, and with six Red and White sweat-drops in front of him, the sturdy centre skirted down the ice with an amazing burst of speed, and evading each one of his opponents, cleverly broke through the two defence men and outwitted Morris, for the goal which put the All-Stars in the lead. The outstanding performer on the game was "Boo" Anderson. He was by far the speediest man on the ice, his stick-handling was excellent, and he did a great deal of effective back-checking. Malinson and Slater also turned in good performances. Malinson, paired off with Lahue, formed an almost impenetrable defence, while the former did some clever puck carrying. Slater was very effective in all departments of the game.

For McGill, Flanagan, Morrison and Dineen were best, though McGerrigle and Dempsey also showed good form. The McGill captain secured his team's only tally on the cleverest bit of stick-handling shown during the entire contest; he completely bewildered the All-Star defence and gave McCormack no chance to save. "Flin" opposed his old teammate "Boo" Anderson at centre. "Inky" Morrison showed flashes of speed and effective bits of back-checking on right wing, while McGerrigle, who has been holding down a position on the defence, was shifted to left wing, where his speed stood him in good stead. Dempsey occupied his usual position on the defence, and the team was reinforced by the appearance of "Mat" Dineen, who paired off with Dempsey in front of the McGill nets.

On the whole it was an interesting contest, even though the play was somewhat erratic. In flashes there was an excellent display of hockey, while at times play was very ragged. The checking was very close on both sides, and neither goaler was called upon to shoulder a heavy burden. This close checking resulted in both teams resorting to combination play, and as a result some pretty team work was witnessed.

In the first period neither side was able to score. The puck during the greater part of the first twenty minutes hovered around the McGill nets. But the defence men and Morris, in goals, were equal to every occasion. The McGill men seemed unable to get started, and for the first ten minutes the All-Star defence had very little to do. Flanagan was doing some clever stick-handling, but seemed unable to hold on to the puck, the disc sliding out of his reach several times. The players were missing passes too, in front of their opponents goals. During the latter part of the opening session, the Red and White players appeared to have struck their stride, and McCormack, in front of the All-Star nets, was kept busy.

The Collegians came back strong in the second period, outplayed their rivals throughout the twenty minutes of play and scored a goal which placed them in the lead. The City Leaguers did not seriously threaten the McGill goal, except on one occasion, when "Boo" Anderson broke through, and pushed the rubber between Morris skates. The puck failed to cross the line by the scantiest fraction of an inch, and "Slim" cleverly kicked it out with his skate. After 13 minutes of play Flanagan and Morrison went down the ice, "Flin" stickhandled his way through the defence, and fooled McCormack by pushing the puck between his legs with a back hand shot. It was a clever bit of work, and the handling of spectators applauded his effort.

This goal added more steam to the McGill players, and the Stars showed more determination in their play. Flanagan went down again and passed to Dineen, but McCormack saved. Flanagan then engineered a speedy rush along the right hand fence, outskating a pair of his rivals, but Dineen missed the pass in front of the goal. The McGill team had their opponents' on the run, and Flanagan and Morrison combined. It looked dangerous for the All-Stars, but Flin missed the pass.

The final period opened with the Stars showing great speed in an effort to tie the score. A promising three-man rush culminated in a wicked shot by "Boo," which Morris cleverly turned aside. But three minutes after the opening of the period Doyle, taking a pass from a team-mate, skated around the McGill right defence and raised one into the corner of the net, which was too speedy for Morris to handle. Anderson followed soon after with his brilliant rush, and tallied the goal which ended the scoring. The Red and White players made a determined effort to even the count, and threatened seriously, but demon jinx seemed to be nearby. McNaughton missed by the narrowest margin on a pass out from behind the goal by Morrison. Flanagan also had hard luck on Morrison's rebound after the latter had taken Flin's pass. Flanagan and Morrison again went down and the McGill captain scored, but the whistle had been blown and the tally did not count. The McGill men continued their attack and Matty broke through but missed the net just as the final gong sounded with the score: All Stars, 2; McGill, 1.

The line-up of the City League team was not quite the same as that which opposed the Granites here two weeks ago. Gervais, in goals, and Mantha on the defence, not appearing. Neither of these, however, was greatly missed, McCormack performed well in front of the nets, and the one goal he did allow would have been good against any net guardian. Lahue played an excellent defensive game and used his weight to good advantage. Anderson, Malinson and Slater, the mainstays of the Stars were at their best.

in favor of McGill; this was followed by some very fast play. The ball sped from end to end, finally slipping into the net at the Varsity goal. With the score tied again and two minutes to play, the excitement became intense as both teams tried the free shot resulting from another double foul. Miss Murray succeeded in scoring while Miss Snider failed, thus putting McGill one point in the lead. Some very fast play followed and as a result of a double foul, which Varsity failed to score, R.V.C. scored the final point, making the score 30-32, just about two seconds before the whistle blew for time.

It would be a difficult task to pick out any individual stars on the R.V.C. team as the game was won as a result of combined individual good play. Miss Russell, as jumping centre, played a spectacular game, always blocking passes and seeming to be in every part of the field at once. Miss R. Dunton's ability to break up combinations was particularly noticeable. To Miss E. Dunton much credit is due for the brilliant manner in which she blocked the opposing forwards. Miss Shlakman played a splendid game as guard in Miss Slack's place on the team. The forwards, Miss Spier and Miss Leggatt, showed exceptional ability in finding the basket. Miss Murray played a good game during the last period when she replaced Miss Spier.

The Varsity team showed splendid form and exhibited particular ability in swift passing. Miss Taylor, as jumping centre, was the backbone of the team, while Miss Snider, the captain of the team, played an exceptional game as shot.

Miss Harvey, physical director of the Y.W.C.A., and Miss Caulwell of the Westhill High School, acted as referees for the three intercollegiate games. Their accuracy and quick judgment throughout the games was thoroughly appreciated.

At the conclusion of the games the majority of the very jubilant spectators adjourned to the regions of the gymnasium, where they might give vent to their feelings and dance for joy. Mr. R. L. Hamilton, president of the Students' Council, in a few well chosen words presented the trophy, a bronze statuette, donated by the Students' Council of McGill for the Women's Intercollegiate Basketball Championship, to Miss D. Russell, the captain of the R.V.C. team.

pressiveness and two-handed action gave him the decision over Gossage, of Varsity.

Black, of Varsity, knocked out Howard, of Queen's 158 pounds, in the second round, while in the 175 pound class the decision was given to Freedman, after the third round. Mahon, of Toronto, was returned victor over Airth of Queens, in the heavyweight class.

FENCING.

Crescibell and Silverstone, of McGill, were both beaten by Toronto men.

WRESTLING.

After nine minutes' grappling, Keytitz, of Varsity, was given the decision over Cheeky of Queens, in the 110-lb. class.

In the 118 pound class, McDonald, of McGill, scored two falls over Innan, of Queens, in four minutes. His speed, combined with his strength, sufficed to give McDonald an easy win.

Lucas, of Varsity, had a slight edge on Reed, the McGill 125 pounder, and got the decision after full time. Reed was suffering from an injury to his arm, which was not yet healed, and which placed him at a decided disadvantage.

In the 135 pound class, Clement scored two falls over Adams, Varsity, in short order. Adams beat a U. S. navy man at Annapolis last year.

Montgomery of McGill, was on the top of King most of the time, getting one fall, in addition to this, the 145 pound class decision went to the McGill man.

The Toronto man had the best of Howard, of Queens, in the 158 pound mix-up, but after that there was no doubt that Armstrong, representing McGill would get the decision.

Freedman, a 175 pound man, gained two falls over Clarke, of Varsity, after having beaten Saylor, the Dominion champion on Friday.

In the heavyweight class, Rumpel with confidence and ease, put away Kelly of Queens.

McGILL WINS HOCKEY GAME FROM U. OF M

McGill Intermediates defeated University of Montreal Intermediates Saturday by the score of 2-1. All goals were scored in the first period. This, the first intermediate game between McGill and U. of M., was played in the Victoria Rink at two o'clock.

The game was rather slow throughout, and the players seemed unable to get moving quickly, nevertheless both teams worked hard and checked hard. The play was clean, few penalties or off-sides being called. After play had zig-zagged up and down the ice for about five minutes Emard, on a clever bit of work, managed to slow the puck past Routledge. About a minute after the puck was faced off again, McLean, aided by some good combination, shipped the rubber past Blanchard. Score one all. Both teams worked hard, playing a strong offensive game after this till almost at the end of the first period, when the second goal for McGill was scored. The gong sounded and the period ended 2-1 for McGill.

In the last period McGill played a three-man defence and by hard checking and good combination managed to prevent the U. of M. from scoring. During this half there were some dangerous scrimmages before each goal, and everybody seemed to be in the same place at once, but no score resulted. When the final gong sounded the score was 2-1 for McGill.

Onimet, Emard and Gion were the most effective players for U. of M. Routledge, McGill goalkeeper, who has hitherto been playing class hockey, turned out with the Intermediates for the first time. He put up as good a game as has been seen in intermediate hockey this year. There was no choice in the McGill forward line, they played hard and back checked well, but the defence were the support of the team. When on the ice the substitutes were also effective. Coach Shaughnessy used his substitutes freely. The game was handled satisfactorily by Referee Walter Smallie. The line-up was as follows:

phone, a cello, a flute, a clarinet, drum, and a pianist.

One of the features on the programme this time will be a banjo duet by the Hargraves brothers, the Clubs mascots, who made such a tremendous hit with their clever performance on their banjo-mandolins while on the tour that the Club took a year ago last Christmas.

All members must attend this final rehearsal to-night at 7.15 p.m., at Peate's, in order to receive final instructions and make seating arrangements. The early hour is necessary as the Manager of the Allen and his Musical Director expects to be present.

The trouble with being born poor is getting over it.

BASKETBALL

R.V.C. TEAM WINS BASKETBALL TITLE

Morden then succeeded in making Varsity's score 11-8. This was followed by a period of fast passing and scoring, the numbers mounting quickly for both sides.

Miss Spier then made a spectacular rush and scored. Following this Varsity obtained the ball and Miss Morden succeeded in scoring from the field. Miss Russell got the ball and by a piece of splendid combination Miss Spier scored; then followed some good interception work by Miss Dunton, but finally Miss Snider succeeded in making her mark. With the score 14-12 in favor of Varsity the R.V.C. team showed their fighting spirit and by some brilliant passes Miss Leggatt scored three times from the floor, thus changing the score to 14-17 in favor of McGill. Miss Spier injured her knee but after a minute off was back with the same spirit. At half time the score stood 17-21 for the home team.

Miss Spier had trouble again with her knee and Miss P. Murray took her place as forward.

In the second half of the game the fighting spirit was even keener, some wild shooting took place as Varsity seemed determined to get a basket but the ball would roll around the ring, keeping the spectators in breathless suspense. After several attempts Miss Snider succeeded in dropping the ball through the ring thus tying the score 21-21. Varsity got ahead again by scoring from the floor, and again on a free shot. The R.V.C. team played with more vigor still and succeeded in making a basket. Varsity followed by scoring again. However, as the McGill girls were out to win they just fought the harder. Miss Russell and Miss Dunton proved a strong barrier and after some speedy play McGill made a basket. This was followed by again scoring on a double free shot, which Varsity failed to make, thus making the score 26-all. Miss Murray scored, bringing the score up to 26-28
